Janice Weaver, PMP, is a system associate vice president responsible for the Enterprise Program Management Office (EPMO) at Norton Healthcare. The EPMO manages the most complex, highest risk projects and programs for the organization; those that are most strategic in nature and require formal project management tools and methodologies to be successful. Janice joined Norton Healthcare in August 2002 to recover an ailing clinical information system program.

Prior to Norton Healthcare, Janice was founder, president and CEO of the Project Management Group; a local project management consulting company. Janice has over 30 years of experience in project and program management in various industries. She has a consistent record of high profile achievements managing multi-million dollar projects.

Janice is qualified with undergraduate degrees in computer science and business administration, a graduate degree with dual majors in management and business, and a Master's Certificate in Information Technology Project Management. Janice is certified as a Project Management Professional and is working on her Program Management Professional certification.
